Description/Remarks

This is a 2-story, 7-bay domestic building in the Greek Revival style with Colonial Revival influences built in 1910. The structural system is frame. The foundation is undetermined. Exterior walls are original wood siding. The building has a low hip roof clad in replacement asphalt shingles with box cornice. There is one side left, exterior, brick chimney. Windows are original wood, 9/12 double-hung sashes. There is a two-story, full-span open porch characterized by a shed roof clad in asphalt shingles with square wood posts. The registration form for the Sayles Boulevard National Register District notes that later modifications to the Steven-Jones House are insensitive to the building; the main building is listed as non-contributing to the district. However, the garage/apartment building maintains integrity to date of construction; this building is listed as contributing to the district.
